

GUIDE TO THE ANALYSIS OF THE SPANISH TRANSLATION OF KARL MARX'S THE CAPITAL: CRITIQUE OF POLITICAL ECONOMY

TEACHER-ASSISTED EXERCISES

1. Using the sources mentioned in section 2.1 above, try to write a biography of Karl Marx in which you explain how he came to writing his main economic work, the Capital.
2. Using the sources mentioned in sections 2.2 above, try to write your own interpretation of Marx's principles ideas.
3. Explore the database of the EE-T portal and the tools mentioned in section 5, to see how many translations were made in the world. Make a graph with the number of translations made in each decade from the 1870s until today. What does this graph indicate?
4. Searching the database of the EE-T portal and the tools mentioned in section 4, and using a world map or Google Maps "places I've visited" or similar tools, make a map of translations of the The Capital all over the world. What does this map indicate?
5. Is the database complete? Using Tribe's Guide and Library Catalogues, make or suggest entries.
6. Make a new entry in the EE-T Database, using an edition available in your library that is missing.
